PREPARE FOR

INDUSTRY

4.0

Industry 4.0 is the fourth industrial revolution, and it is happening now!

The first industrial revolution emerged in the 18th Century, and saw the advent of factory production.

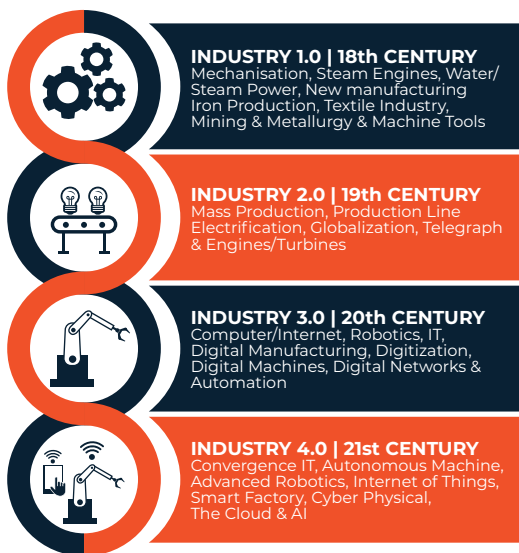

This was followed by the second industrial revolution, which revolved around mass production.

In the 20th Century, the third industrial revolution came with electronics, I.T. systems and automation.

We are now part of the emerging fourth industrial revolution, which is driven by digital transformation.

Tools for Schools and our partners, such as Dobot, Uscube and System7, are passionate about helping your students be the leaders of this revolution.

But, how could they prove that the Kubes are indeed the strongest work benches on the market? The obvious answer was to put heavy stuff on them, very heavy stuff...

LASER SAFETY

Safety Interlocks

The interlocks immediately stop the laser if the lid is opened during operation or if any other doors or panels are removed from the machine.

Key Lock:

The Laser source will not operate unless the key is inserted and turned on. This means the teacher has control and is a safe guard against students operating the laser without supervision.

Safety Signs

We will supply safety signage for the school to display around the area of the laser system.

Glass Lid

GCC machines have a filtered glass lids that fully protects the operator from eye exposure and the radiation wave length. As opposed to the common acrylic lid, the glass lid will not melt in the event of a fire.

Emergency Stop Button

Most materials cut or engraved on a laser are combustible. This means that using the laser may represent a significant fire hazard. This risk is partly mitigated by the use of an extraction fan and compressed air through the laser head onto the cutting area. If ignition does occur, there is a big red emergency stop button that immediately shuts down the machine.

i Types of Laser Tubes

CO₂ GLASS TUBE

A common, slower pulsing and less expensive option, but a good all-rounder for cutting and engraving. Uses high DC voltage to fire the laser and requires a water chiller to cool the tube. These have a shorter life expectancy - up to 3 years.
